Member Organization Status

Updated October 1, 2026

Member Organization status extends CSCA member benefits to recognized organizations and their "members" without requiring individual purchases of CSCA membership. In addition to member benefits, Member Organizations receive group entry discounts to CSCA events to extend to their members. Member Organizations also receive promotion benefits as discussed in the CSCA event Promotion Policy and CSCA Calendar Policy. Below is a list of recognized organizations for Member Organization status with applicable annual fees.

Members of a Member Organization are individuals who are designated at the time of status acquisition, as appropriate for the nature of the organization and may include employees, agents, members, students, faculty, staff, leadership, ownership, clients, customers, etc.
